November 27, 2020 Version 13.2 Scattershot and Leozack join the game! The commanders of Technobots and Destrons, respectively, finally come to the fight for the leadership of their teams. Their arrival will bring a new escalation to the war for Earth.Also coming in this version: A new way to unlock new characters new defensive structures and the defensive cores of the Power Transformers Universe is all about colorful armies locked in an epic battle. Rival Kingdom developer Space Ape nails everything in this stunning wargame strategy. Packed with enough nostalgia to fill the Energon cube, its fast-paced battles will satisfy the touch generals and kids of the 80s alike. I've been playing this game for over two years. I created and still team team for more than half of that time. I've never been waiting for a drop in rates. Yes a lot of dupes, but this game is really for patience, skill development, and building a community with other players. Yes there are boneheads out there too, but once you hit Level 4 headquarters, find a good team. You can have a lot of fun playing with others or solo. I spent money on resources and crystals early on and realized wasting a waste of it. Fuel and coin bundles for events were more valuable. But I spend sparingly. You don't have to give up money every time you play, and patience is the best when you're a little short on energon or alloy to upgrade something. Go raid ... Lol... Yes can be monotonous, so pac yourself and remember real world responsibilities as it's easy, very easy to get sucked in at a team event where players try to outdo everyone each or hit the minimum as soon as possible. Events and wars and now RAIDS offer a lot of necessary resources. Choose wisely, play patiently, and remember that this is just a game. And a pretty cool one actually. Effects and details of the phenomina. And if you're looking for an autobot team, find STOMP. Let them know that you have seen this review and N3 sent you. This game of drop speed is absolutely awful. It doesn't matter if you spend money either, you can literally spend $200 on this game and still don't get a combine harvester. It will take weeks and weeks, if not months, to accumulate enough crystal shards to try to get three or four stars of the bot. And the probability that this will duplicate is ridiculously high. It's not even touching five-star bots that you can't buy and are impossible to get. I've been playing this game for almost 2 years and I'm about a quarter of the way to achieving a 15 star auto bot. Also, they only want your money and don't reward you for loyalty at all. My phone crashed in the midst of planning and trying to upgrade one of my automatic bot abilities. When I got back into the game, it spent my coins on upgrades and instead of my gold. It will take six months to a year to get 150 to 200 coins. It takes about one fight, or five minutes, to get enough gold for me to do the upgrade. It would make absolutely no sense to spend the coin on something that I could upgrade within five minutes. But even after emailing them, they refused to reverse the mistake. I just want you to buy more coins. The gameplay is fun, the nostalgia is great. Falling rate and money grabbing is pathetic. Help Center Comments Share This page will list all the bots currently in the game. All bots have their own bot analogue in another faction. In the current situation, SpaceApe as a developer always introduces both factions equally; Arcee introduction for Autobots and Nightbird for Deceptions. Both new bots presented usually have the same (or similar but different names) ability and class. Sometimes they are very different however, for example in 2016 Aug 5 - Operation Snakebite, introduced sideswipe and Viper with different abilities / class. Class. Bot, there are up to 5 possible star ratings. Not all bots have or are currently, but the game continues to expand so maybe in the future. Currently, each faction has two bots with no choice, which has recently dropped from 6 such bots in 2018 in June. So it's possible that you have 4 bots with different ratings, but you can't bring botha clones to do the fight, so you can't bring Arcee and Arcee in the same battle. Each Star Rating will give an impact with the level of power, health and attack damage and will have different costs for research abilities and level upgrades. A higher rating of stars is usually stronger than a bot. See each Bot for more information. Star rating affects rating points in your collection. Bots with higher star rating earn more points than a bot with a lower rating. Star rating affects the ability to form Super Warriors (combinators), as they can consist only of . or Bots. A list of levels required for each Bot level. At the moment, the highest level is 60 for Botha with a rating. On March 15, 2018, with version 1.57.1-0, the maximum level will increase from 50 to 60.
